Numismagram Newsletter #6 (VI/2018)

Another busy month of buying has allowed us to present a more thematic upload for June, with a particular focus upon Mors in Nummis (Death in Coins). An ever popular motif, skulls were generally utilized on some 17th and 18th century church tokens in order to remind the bearer of the fragility of life. More recently, the usage of skulls and skeletons in medallic issues has served as a prominent allegory for Death itself. Lastly, the iconography is seen in designs for medical and anthropological topics—one of the most iconic being the medal which was created for the jubilee of Johann Friedrich Blumenbach's doctorate (seen here above in both silver and bronze).

Though a rather morbid—and particularly offbeat—theme, we here at Numismagram have always found this area of numismatics both fascinating and interesting. We hope that you will find this selection to be an alluring topic. In addition, you will find a few decorations from post-WWI France, another Napoleonic gem, a pleasing architectural type, and issues celebrating the Peace of Utrecht and Finland's role in the colonial settlements in Delaware.

Regarding the recent General Data Protection Regulation which went into effect late last month, we want to take the opportunity to remind everyone that we do not pass along or share your information with anyone. If you would like to discontinue receiving emails to us, you may do so at any time. Simply respond to this—or any future email from us—that you would like to be removed and we will do so.

You are receiving this message because you have expressed an interest in our material or have purchased from us in the past. If you wish to no longer receive these updates via email, simply reply that you would like to be removed and we will do so.
